1 up to sidebar saying, "How does he know that," right?

2 THE COURT: Well, you can cross him and say, "Well, you
3 told us back in April you didn't know anything about that subject
4 and now you've been directly testifying about it." But that --
5 you're right, that's not the best way of presenting that issue
6 before a jury.

7 Okay. Let me hear from Reynolds again.

8 MR. GOTTS: Thank you, Your Honor.

9 MR. QUINLAN: Briefly, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: Yeah.

11 MR. QUINLAN: We did describe the general nature of the 12 conversations. No lawyer was present for these conversations.
13 It was simply Dr. Figlar and his formal colleagues from Reynolds.
14 We did give them a description of -- I would say a broad
15 description of what they talked about. But if they want to know
16 more about the conversations, that's why we offered for them to 17 take the deposition. I think they can learn everything they want
18 to know, other than -- what they're requesting is we have to go
19 back to Dr. Figlar, ask him what they talked about, write it up, 20 send it to them, and they take his deposition anyway. I mean, we 21 can just shortcut it.

22 THE COURT: Is he available for deposition?

23 MR. QUINLAN: He is available. I don't believe he's 24 available next week, but we can make him available at any other
25 time. I'm sure we can work it out with the other side to make
